

New England Dairy Producers:

*Are you a New England dairy producer?
Do you need assistance with succession or transition planning?*

Land For Good can help.

Farm Succession planning can be mystifying and, sometimes, intimidating. We provide the information, support, guidance, and referrals that New England farmers need to start and follow through on this process.

With support from the Keep Local Farms Fund of the New England Dairy Promotion Board, Land For Good can offer farm succession planning services at reduced or no cost to dairy farmers for a limited time. Land For Good is a nonprofit organization providing land access, tenure, and transfer services throughout New England. We maintain a network of state-based Field Agents who work with farmers through a customized, personalized, team-based approach to farm succession and transfer planning. We can:

- Provide information and resources to get started
- Find appropriate advisors and coordinate your team
- Help you navigate your farm transfer planning process
